

IDAHO (International Day Against Homophobia)

Event Brief

Community Breakfast – Friday 15 May 2009, 8am-9am

This year the City of Charles Sturt is helping to coordinate a neighbourhood community breakfast to celebrate IDAHO. We currently have a number of organisations already supporting the event and would like to invite your organisation to be involved. If you would like to support the breakfast, your organisations’ logo will be included on the event advertising flier, you will be invited to come along on the morning to promote your service, and assist in promoting the event to your networks and community.

A free BBQ breakfast will be happening out the front of the City Of Charles Sturt Civic Centre, 72 Woodville Road from 8am-9am. We are planning to have a prominent speaker to open the event, a door-prize raffle, and there will be lots of rainbow colours, music, face-painting and fun. To keep with the theme of the event, we would ask you to be energetic and interactive in your information provision and attendance.
